When: Friday, November 1st @ 5:30 prior to the 7:00 game against the Utah Jazz

Where: Majerle's Sports Grill in downtown Phoenix - 24 N. 2nd St. Phoenix, AZ 85004

At this point I've only gotten a few solid rsvps (thanks to those that did) with some other loose commitments. If you do plan on attending and didn't want to commit two weeks ago when this was originally posted I encourage you to do so now. At this point I just plan on showing up at Majerle's and grabbing some tables (I'll probably be there a little before 5:00 - since I have time to kill after I get off work at 4:00), but if more of you show up than I've planned on there's no guaranteeing we'll all have seating together.

I also haven't planned on any type of group seating at the arena. Once again, feel free to show up at either Majere's or the game (or both). I will be sitting in section 104, row 27, seat 20. It's just in from the corner. There were still 18 seats left in this row if others are interested in sitting together. They are pretty decent seats. Here's a link to the 3D seating chart for USAC if you want to check out the view. I paid $45 on NBAtickets.com ($35 for the ticket and only $10 in service charges), which is linked in the tickets tab on the homepage. I'm sure there are cheaper ways to get tickets, too, but I didn't bother to ferret them out. Second level seats should be damn near free. Please feel free to share any discount opportunities in the comments below.

Hopefully we will have strong attendance and a good time. Please don't leave me standing at the altar.

Remember, friends and family are welcome and my email is jacoughenour@gmail.com to rsvp.
