It's been almost a month since my last post . I've been very busy trying to stay out of the valley since summertime made its debut, and I hate lugging a laptop around on trips. So in the meantime, I haven't had the time or the desire to worry about the

Suns

. What's to

about? Ah, but I started to worry, a few days ago, that if I didn't post something soon I'd go down in BSotS flames with my report cards

and

horoscope predictions

lost in the internet void forever. Well, not really - but I did tell Will I wanted to write again.

Hmm...maybe tomorrow.

In the meantime, I'll answer Seth's questions - - - in haikus:

What have you been up to this summer?

Dreaming of the Suns

What in the heck was that noise?

My dentist is nice...

Anyone go anywhere interesting on vacation?

Oh, hi...

Saw Seth play...I think

Ghost hotels equal no sleep

Road trips with friends...yes!

□

Run into anyone famous?

□

If I keep running

I might just run into a...

...pole or something silly.

Drink too much and post embarrassing pictures on the internet (sharing required)?

Oh, hi...

Counting my blessings

Camera was m.i.a.

Phew...and that is all.
